

-PRESS RELEASE-

November 26, 1998

Oxnard, CA-

Atila M Taluy announced that the media test site for FileYourTaxes.com is now available at <http://www.FileYourTaxes.com/media.html>. The web site is the nation's premier online income tax filing service and represents over two decades of income tax preparation experience. This release of FileYourTaxes.com contains many new features that address problems experienced by the industry and the tax jurisdictions over the past three tax seasons. Taluy, who has been a part of the IRS innovated Online filing from its inception in 1996, said that "This year, we are ever-closer to forming the virtual partnership with the tax jurisdictions to provide a truly comprehensive online tax return filing capability, and to make it available to the average taxpayer who wishes to use it".

This media site demonstrates the functionality of the FileYourTaxes.com system and incorporates some of the new features, which will be available to the taxpayers early in 1999.

Taluy continues to work with the tax jurisdictions to make filing taxes easier for the taxpayer. "Our goal is to make the simplest to use, yet technically most comprehensive system available.," said Taluy. As a result, FileYourTaxes.com will be an active participant of the IRS pilot Paperless Tax Return project, utilizing ECNs, and offer the new ACH Debit payment option. ECNs, as described in a previous release, will be issued to taxpayers by the IRS, and will be used in lieu of signature, which will make it possible for those taxpayers holding them to file their taxes with no paper documents at all. It is believed that there may be as many as twelve million such numbers issued by the IRS. Certain states may also do the same. With or without refunds will be lightning fast using FileYourTaxes.com online electronic filing, whether an ECN is used or not.

The technical advances in the FileYourTaxes.com system includes use of upgraded export grade security certification features to afford taxpayers the greater protection of their valuable data. The graphical user interface, and data integrity checks were greatly improved to help the user navigate through the system, and more feedback was integrated into the system to help inform the taxpayer as they prepare their taxes.
